A hand-drawn map of the Cernobyl area. The map shows the Dniester River (Dnipro) flowing from the top left towards the bottom. A railway line runs vertically through the center, with a station labeled 'railroad station'. To the left of the station is a building labeled 'COP'. To the right of the station is a large area labeled 'CERNA' (Cernobyl). Below 'CERNA' is a hatched area labeled '100 tracks (4 Soviet gauge, 96 standard gauge)'. Further down the river is a building labeled '4'. To the right of the river is a series of rectangular buildings labeled '1', '2', '3', and '4'. A road labeled 'to Bial' runs from the bottom right towards the buildings. A road labeled 'to Kosice' runs from the bottom left towards the river. A road labeled 'to Zahony' runs from the top right towards the river. A road labeled 'to Munkacs' runs from the top left towards the river. A road labeled 'to Uzhorod' runs from the top left towards the river. The map is divided into three regions: 'CSR' (Czechoslovakia) on the left, 'USSR' in the center, and 'HUNGARY' on the right. A north arrow points towards the top left.
